While it is clear that understanding the social, cultural, religious, and occupational beliefs and needs of the surrounding population is essential, it is also absolutely necessary that we discuss another aspect of the project: funding. The cost of design is estimated to be $50,000. The cost of materials is estimated to be $75,000. The cost of labor is estimated to be $100,000. These costs are substantial. That is why it is very important that we have a plan in place to cover them all. It has been confirmed that $50,000 of the cost will be paid for through the generous donation of Willa J. Arthur.
