A. Partea I: CITIT

Read the texts below and choose the correct answer a, b, c or d.

I've always been a bit of an entertainer and played the funny man. I was a part-time comedian for years, so I learned how to stand in front of audience. It made me sure of myself. I like being liked and I love making everyone smile.

I've lived in London all my life and have just moved to a larger house with my wife Clare and our two children, Jimmy and Madeleine. We spend a lot of time just singing and dancing around the house. I grew up with music because my dad is the pianist, Chester Harriot – who's still playing, by the way.

My working day is divided between television and writing cook books, though TV takes most of my time. I spend about five days a fortnight working on the cooking programmes I appear in. I eat all sorts of things at home but I only buy quality food. When I'm cooking, I experiment with whatever is in the fridge – it's good practice for my TV series. I'm a football fan and enjoy going to matches, but I'm a home loving person really. I don't like going to the pub but we do go out to eat about twice a month. There is nothing better than a night at home playing with the children. I rarely go to bed before midnight. In the evening is when fresh thoughts on cooking usually come to me, so I often write or plan my programme.

Chocolate first came from Central America. The word chocolate comes from the Aztec language and is the only Aztec word we use regularly in English. The Aztecs made a greasy, bitter drink called Xocoatl, from cocoa beans mixed with cold water, spices and cornmeal. The Aztecs used the cocoa bean as a form of money. According to HH Bancroft, who was a historian, "four beans bought some vegetables, ten beans bought a woman and a slave cost 100".

The explorer Cortes was the first person to bring chocolate to Europe. He presented it to the Spanish Royal Court in Madrid and served it with herbs and pepper. Soon it became very fashionable to drink it with sugar and vanilla and drunk warm.

Coenrad van Houten, who was Dutch, was the first person to extract the cocoa butter from cocoa bean in 1827. In 1847, Joseph Fry, who lived in England, mixed the cocoa butter with other ingredients to make a solid chocolate bar.

Daniel Peter, who was a confectioner in Switzerland, invented milk chocolate in the 1870s. Henri Netle developed the process. The cocoa tree originally comes from the Amazon rainforests. Brazil, West Africa and Ecuador now produce most of the 1,5 million – tonne world cocoa crop.
